Emergencies Don't Care About Your Budget Limitations... But We Do.

Public Safety Organizations are facing more challenges than ever before. Their budgets and resources are shrinking, while the need for law enforcement and emergency response agencies has never been higher.

Air surveillance is one of the most expensive, yet one of the most vital tools to Public Safety Organizations, making the need for more cost effective option so crucial. Thankfully, there's Skytech!

An Affordable Air Surveillance Solution That's Ready To Go When You Are

Skytech is a solution provider, supplying UAS (Unmanned Aerial Systems) plus optional software capabilities to safety agencies throughout the United States. We make the best use of today's cutting-edge technology, tailoring it to assist and aid local police, disaster response units, park services, fire departments and more.

With Skytech, you can utilize a fleet of drones on a pay-per-hour rate, giving you an eye in the sky without the burden and expense of owning your own aerial surveillance equipment.
